At the end of the seminar, participants issued recommendations aiming at developing procedures for the next stage, as well as means to implement them as soon as possible.

Thus, two committees were created:

This committee is constituted of engineers with various specialties (civil, electro-mechanical, computer, architectural, etc.) as well as experts in the library field. Its mission is to elaborate a detailed programming of spaces dedicated to various services of the National Library, as well as necessary networks for its functioning (computer, telephony, etc.)

- The Committee for the selection of candidates for the architectural contest for the construction and equipment of the future National Library in Sanayeh.

This committee will be constituted of engineers specialized in the library field. Its mission is to establish the candidates' profiles and call for tenders, and to suggest to the Minister of Culture a list of names for members of the jury who will be in charge of pre-selecting the top 5 candidates.
